Owner of House of Pain has until June 14 to show documentation

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

The owner of a rooming house known as the House of Pain has until June 14 to produce certain documentation to the Belle Glade City Commission.

Margaret Peavy, owner of the building at 416 S.W. Avenue B Place, did not attend Monday night's commission meeting, but her attorney Reed McCluskey did.

The commission declared the building dangerous in December, 1992 and ordered it demolished. At that time it was owned by David "Sonny" Fowler. The commission gave Mr. Fowler a 90-day extension if he would submit plans showing how he would meet city codes and proof of financing to make repairs.

Fowler sold the building to Mrs. Peavy in December and she went before the commission, and was granted a further extension of 92 days to provide the same information.

Monday, May 24 was the last day on a 92 day extension.

Mr. McCluskey told commissioners Monday night that Mrs. Peavy was still working to get financing to renovate the building.

Planning and Building Administrator Gene Simmons said he has yet to be given construction drawing or documentation of funding.

"We're really not further than we were a month ago, two months ago," he said.

Mr. McCluskey did provide documentation that Mrs. Peavy has paid over $15,000 in back taxes owed on the property. He said on his advice she not to pay the 1992 taxes, although she purchased a money order for over $1,000, the amount owed.

Commissioner Harma Miller said she understood Mrs. Peavy has spent considerable money on attorney fees and back taxes, but said "our main concern is for the safety and welfare of our citizens."

City Attorney John Baker said it disturbs him that so far, all the city has received is "promises, promises, promises. We want documentation by the next next meeting, not conversation. I would be reluctant to extend it beyond the next meeting."

The commission voted unanimously to defer any action until the June 14 meeting, which they requested Mrs. Peavy attend.

"I'm fed up with it," said Mayor Bill Bailey. "I'm sick of it and I've gone as far as I'm going to go."

In other business before the commission Monday night, commissioners:

- Heard from Mrs. Maude Vereen in reference to Law Enforcement Appreciation Day. Mrs. Vereen said she would like all the commissioner to attend the event, scheduled for May 30 at 11 a.m. at Mount Zion AME Church.

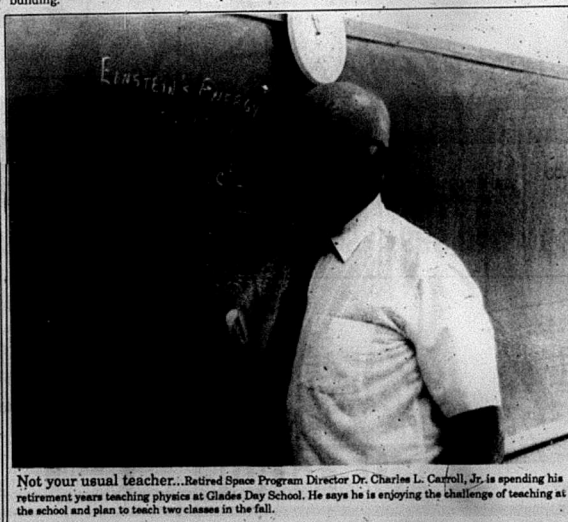

- Adopted a resolution and presented certificates to Glades students who were nominated for the Pathfinders Awards.

- Approved a Joint Participation Agreement with the Florida Department of Transportation in reference to establishing a Metropolitan Planning Organization for a West Palm Beach Urban Study Area.

- Agreed to hire approximately 35 youth through the Private Industry Council's Summer Youth Employment Agreement.

- Proclaimed June 6-12 as National Safe Boating Week.

- Authorized expenditures for a Men's Softball League at Airport Park.

Not your usual teacher...Retired Space Program Director Dr. Charles L. Carroll, Jr., is spending his retirement years teaching physics at Glades Day School. He says he is enjoying the challenge of teaching at the school and plan to teach two classes in the fall.

CDS graduates 18 during ceremony May 20

Coach Jesus Armas challenged the 1993 graduating class at Christian Day School to be "intolerant" during his Senior Challenge speech.

He said they should not accept premarital sex as all right, nor homosexuality as normal.

He challenged them to live up to the moral codes taught at Christian Day School and go out into the world "intolerant" of sin.

Eighteen seniors accepted their diplomas from Christian Education Committee member Craig Pate while Coach Scott Wilson gave the roll call of the seniors.

Those graduating included

Valedictorian Lisa Glass, Salutatorian Keith Hilver, Nicole A. Bennett, Calvin James Bowens, Jr., Ana Marie Camacho, Christopher Cunningham, Torrence Harden, Sanea Tekia Chanta Hart, Scott Heading, Jorge Hermida, Michael McVey, Kelly Miller, Adolfo Ramos, Victor Marcel Rivero, Jena Ruth Salvatore, Fred D. Strickland, Jeremy Michael Wade and Michelle Renee Williams.

Rivero was the 1993 class president, Glass the vice president, Salvatore the secretary, Cunningham the treasurer, Ramos the Chaplain and Bennett the class historian. Student Council Representatives were McVey and Williams.

Lake Shore Middle School student dies in home fire

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

The State Fire Marshal's office is investigating a fire which killed a 15-year-old boy Saturday about 10:30 a.m.

Belle Glade Fire Chief Tony Tuliano said Ezekiel Kellam, an eight-grader at Lake Shore

Middle School, was found dead in his home at 916 S.W. Ave. B Place.

He was home alone when the fire started. He lived with his grandparents who had gone fishing that morning.

The single family home was destroyed in the fire.

Discount Auto Parts robbed by masked man

Belle Glade Police are looking for a man who robbed the Discount Auto Parts store, 801 South Main Street, in Belle Glade Sunday night.

The man, described as a black male, 20-25 years old, 5'10", approximately 150-175 pounds wearing a white t-shirt and black pants, entered the store about 7:10 p.m.

He was wearing a ski mask and was armed with a .45 caliber semi-automatic handgun.

A store employee told police the man fired the gun at him, took an undetermined amount of cash and fled.

Detective William T. Murphy is asking anyone having any information on this robbery to call him at 996-7251 or call 996-TIPS.

Anyone having information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the suspect may be eligible for up to a $1,000 reward.

Pahokee Commission chooses new name for gymnasium

Pahokee City Commissioners voted Tuesday night to name the old Pahokee High School gymnasium "The City of Pahokee Community Recreation Complex."

Sixty entries were received in the "Name the Gym" contest. The commission chose the name submitted by Commissioner Keith Babb.

Scientist with the space program now teaching at Glades Day

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

Understanding the natural laws of the universe may sound easy if you're a rocket scientist, or if your teacher is a former scientist with the space program.

Seniors taking physics this year at Glades Day School have been fortunate to have a retired director of the technical staff for the space program as their teacher.

Dr. Charles L. Carroll, Jr. retired from the space program in 1985, but he's not spending his retirement years traveling or relaxing, he has opted to teach - for free.

"I do this because my grandson, Trey, went here to Glades Day School," he said.

He also has ties to the school because his daughter, Charla Sizemore, and her husband, Buddy also teach at Glades Day School.

Dr. Carroll isn't in it for the money. He donates his teaching salary back to the school for the purchase of books or laboratory equipment.

"I'm just acting as a volunteer," he said. "I do this because I want to."

Sometimes, he said, the kids in his class will ask him about his background with the space program. He doesn't talk about it much.

In the late '60s, and into the 1970's Dr. Carroll spent his time commuting to Japan to teach the Japanese space technology. He worked for Pam Am World Services at the time. He helped the Japanese develop a range similar to Cape Canaveral.

"The United States had a treaty with the Japanese to teach them some of our space technology," he said. "When I first started we were outstripping them. I did wonder sometimes though if we were doing the right thing."

He never gave away the latest secrets of the space program, he said, because he was limited to giving them information at least 10 years old. "We didn't want them to have the latest technology," he said.

He was rewarded for his teaching efforts by being the only foreigner allowed at their first space launch.

Dr. Carroll said he didn't learn to speak Japanese during the 15 years he commuted back and forth from the states because everything was done through an interpreter, but he did learn some of their customs.

One American custom considered extremely rude to the Japanese is summoning someone by wiggling the pointing finger.

In addition to working in Japan, Dr. Carroll also lent his expertise to the Saudis. He directed the technical assistance project in United Arab Emirates and in Saudi Arabia.

Dr. Carroll and his wife, Geraldine, live part of the year in Belle Glade and also have a home near the Cape.

In addition to daughter Charida Sizemore, they have a daughter, Jill Carroll who lives in Wellington and a son, Charles, III who lives in Atlanta, GA.

Dr. Carroll is listed in Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in the South and Southeast and Who's Who in Science and Technology. He has published several scientific papers, and gave reports on them in Athens, Greece, Tokyo, London, England, and in Paris, France.

LOW BACK PAIN

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

Homosexuality a sin

I just read an article that gave Biblical scripture for God's feelings about homosexuality. The Bible is very clear that this lifestyle is a sin.

I know a few people who chose this lifestyle and I realize this is very difficult for them to deal with, but I truly believe it is wrong and if someone is living this life, the least they should do is to keep it to themselves and not flaunt it.

Hope it rains soon

The median strips in the City of Belle Glade have always been so well maintained and add beauty to our city.

Lately, though, I've noticed the grass is very brown and in some places dying.

I hope the rainy season begins soon so we can all have better looking grass.

Also, I would like to commend the inmates at Glades Correctional Institution for doing such a good job keeping the median strips looking so nice.

We always hear people complain about how prisoners should earn their keep and be put to work and I think this is a good idea.

I just wonder why more of them aren't out working. I understand that some of them would be a danger to society, but it seems many are in there for drug abuse or robbery and they would be good candidates for the work release program.

Mostly though, I called to say I wish it would rain and to ask why they aren't trying to do a little watering to keep the grass from dying on the median strips.

Editor's note: We would like to ask that the person who called Speak Out about a problem with the Water Department to contact Lomax Harrelle, City Manager at 996-0100.

If, after they have expressed their concern to him, they still have a problem, call us again. Any perceived waste of taxpayers dollars is always a concern, and we encourage this caller to help find a solution.

Thank you for calling Speak Out.

Cut spending first

By United States Senator Connie Mack (R-FL)

"Cut spending first!" This is the cry of the American people, yet their call has fallen on deaf ears in Washington. Congress won't cut spending first, the Clinton Administration won't cut spending first and the deficit continues to choke the American spirit of innovation and competition for future generations.

I have introduced legislation, along with U.S. Representative John R. Kasich (R-OH), which will give the American people what they voted for: spending cuts first.

We have introduced legislation creating an independent commission with the power to force Congress and the Administration into making spending cuts. The Government Spending Reduction Commission, modeled after the Base Closure and Realignment Commission, would propose a package of $65 billion in spending cuts annually to achieve a balanced budget by the year 2000.

Congress would be forced to accept or reject the total package with no amendments allowed.

An independent "Grace Commission with teeth" is needed because Congress and the Administration have not cut spending.

Citizens invited to EMS Fair

Each year a week is set aside in May to recognize the men and women who dedicate their lives to helping others.

EMT's, Paramedics, and Firefighters are all part of the EMS team. EMS is short for Emergency Medical Services and without this profession many lives would be quite different.

Hard work, dedication, determination and continuous education are all used to describe what it takes to survive in EMS. Other necessities are kindness, compassion, common sense, and lots of patience. There is no glamour or glory on the streets or in the alleys.

To hear a thank you is a rare treat. And believe me, no one chooses the profession if they intend to make the big time.

The job is thankless, at times depressing and stressful. It's open every weekend, all holidays, summer, hot weather, hurricanes, or droughts, eight hours. Eight hours is not a normal day, and sleep is a luxury.

EMS people are very special because this is the way they choose to work and they enjoy it. Why else would it be done and if not by them, then who?

Take the time and come out to the EMS Open House on Friday, May 28 at the Belle Glade Fire Department, located at 525 SW 2nd Street. There will be displays and demonstrations from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

Also on Friday, in Pahokee, the Ambulance Service will be visiting local schools and participating in Career Day events.

Glades General offers third Heart At Work program for employees

June is Fitness Awareness Month and Glades General Hospital will be celebrating the month with four different events.

The events are part of the American Heart Association's Heart at Work Program and have been chosen to appeal to a variety of interests.

The events are geared to help those who may not have been physically active in the past and to promote wellness among employees and their families.

The first event is Thursday, June 10, beginning at 4:30 p.m. All hospital employees, their family members and residents of the community are invited to participate in this walking event.

Participants will meet in the patio area at the hospital. There will be beginning, intermediate, and advanced walking routes planned and led by a hospital staff member. Routes to be announced. Allow 45 minutes for warm-up and actual walking time.

On Monday, June 14 at 7:15 p.m., hospital employees and their family members are invited to attend a First-time Aerobic Class, taught by Michelle Young at the Belle Glade Civic Center.

This is a 45 minute class for persons who do not participate in aerobic classes. On Wednesday, June 23 at 12:30 p.m. in the Administrative Conference Room at GGH a Stretch and Stress Relief session over lunch will be offered.

Employees are invited to this relaxing session to reap the benefits of reducing their stress level. Bike enthusiasts at the hospital can join other bike riders on a ride to the Belle Glade marina and back on Friday, June 25. Riders will meet at 4:30 p.m. at the hospital in the front patio area.

Refreshment stations will be positioned along the way. Borrow a bike from a friend now for this fun event.

Remember to wear those sneakers and comfortable clothes on Fitness Event days to enjoy these activities.

Ask Dr. Boltson

Dr. David Boltson is the associate director of the Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic in Belle Glade, and is a licensed psychologist in private practice in Lake Worth.

Dear Readers:

What have you done today to improve your life?

If you take this question seriously, it could be the start of a new beginning for you. Many of us are well-versed in complaints and criticisms. We can point out all the problems we see in others. Additionally, we often have strong opinions on what aspects of the world should not be the way they are.

Unfortunately, our strong opinions tend to not very often change the world, but instead are useful for making ourselves even more unhappy than we were before we decided how others should change.

It is much more challenging and difficult to ask yourself, "What can I do today that will be a step in the right direction for me?"

It can be tricky and frustrating to come up with a realistic answer to that question.

It is even more challenging to actually act on the answers we give ourselves.

If you can begin to do what has just been suggested in these paragraphs, then you will feel gratified to know that you can make your life better today!

Any readers who would like to share their experience about how they have changed a long standing bad habit, or who have recently begun to change themselves for the better, are encouraged to write.

Or, if you would like to anonymously inquire about issues regarding yourself or your acquaintances, you may do so by writing to Dr. Boltson. You don't even have to give your name or address. Just mail all questions to:

He also received the citizenship and advanced math awards as well as sharing the physics and social studies awards with Barhoush.

As a salutatorian, Alina Blanchard received a plaque, medallion and a trophy recognizing her achievements. She has been accepted at the University of Florida and will begin class this summer. She plans to pursue a career in Physical Therapy.

Altman wins TIP award

TIP, the Duke University Talent Identification Program, is sponsoring a recognition ceremony to honor some of Florida's most talented seventh graders. The ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. on June 3 at the University of Florida's Stephen C. O'Connell Center Arena in Gainesville.

Patrick C. Altman who attends Glades Day School will be one of 1,617 students recognized for their academic achievement.

"Exceptional academic talent is a precious national resource that is often undervalued or ignored in our society," said TIP's executive director Dr. David Goldstein. "For many outstanding young people, recognition from TIP is an important source of support and encouragement for their efforts."

Brooks; Lady Raiders win state heptathlon titles

Phyllis Brooks scored 4,721 points to win the state individual heptathlon, beating out 112 other athletes, she also led her team to their 3rd consecutive state team title.

Shundra Smith finished 3rd with 4,647 points, Yvonne Joachim placed 6th with 4,157 points and Anjanette Gilbert placed 9th with 4,066 points. As a team they set a state record for total points 13,525, beating the previous state record by 85 points. Palm Beach Lakes was second with 12,162. Great year ladies!

Christian Day School Elementary News

If one could judge the extent of fun children have by the amount of dirt on their faces, Mrs. Ashton's kindergarten class certainly enjoyed themselves on their recent trip to A. Duda & Sons Farm. There the children pulled radishes, corn and watched vegetables being harvested and being packaged for shipment.

Mrs. Davis' K-4 graduation has been busy helping with the K-5 graduation preparations. The graduation, which will be Thursday, May 27th at 9:30 p.m., will consist of a variety of singing and recitation in the Christian Mother Goose Theme.

Mrs. Thompson's second grade and Mrs. Ciancercelli's third grade visited Hoffmann's Chocolate Factory in Lake Worth on May 14th. The students enjoyed observing the electrical trains, touring the gardens and sampling the varieties of chocolate. Accompanying the classes on this trip were Mrs. Stevens, Mr. Guehlle and Miss Jackson.

All students attending the ceremony scored as well or better than the average college bound high school senior on either the SAT or the ACT. These tests are administered as part of an annual Talent Search. In 1992-1993, the program identified almost 62,000 seventh-graders, nearly a sixfold increase from the original Talent Search in 1980.

TIP's Talent Search identifies seventh-graders in sixteen states in the Southeast, Midwest, Southwest who have scored in the top three percent on a national achievement test. Students participate by taking either the SAT or the ACT. TIP provides all Talent Search participants with recognition ceremonies in each of its sixteen states. These ceremonies are the largest of their kind in the nation with nearly 32,000 parents, students and teachers attending in 1992.

Scholarship tax repeal

In a move to increase the number of students receiving financial aid for college, Congressman Tom Lewis today introduced legislation to repeal the federal tax on scholarships and fellowships.

"It makes no sense for members of Congress to express concern about education and at the same time allow a tax on scholarships to remain on the books," Lewis said in introducing his bill, which repeals a provision of the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

The 1986 provision maintained the tax exclusion for the portion of scholarship money used to pay tuition fees, books and supplies, but eliminated the exclusion for the portion of scholarship money used to pay for room, board and travel expenses.

Lewis argued that room, board and travel expenses are as necessary to students as tuition and books and should also be excluded from taxation.

"The net effect of the scholarship tax is to shrink the pool of scholarship money that is available for students, because the government is taking a cut," Lewis said. "Repealing this tax will help provide educational opportunities to more students and these students in turn will be more valuable contributions to society and to our tax base in the future. Getting rid of the scholarship tax is a 'can't lose' proposition."

Talent Search participants receive a variety of educational materials and publications. A results summary and counseling guide help students interpret scores and provide suggestions for using their ability effectively. TIP's publications help students find out more about academic opportunities and about the needs and interest of people like themselves. These publications include a guide to educational opportunities, a newsletter and a magazine on college choices mailed to TIP students in the tenth grade.

TIP is a non-profit, educational organization designed to identify and develop academic talent. Over the past decade, TIP has established itself as the largest program of its kind in the nation. Since 1980, over one-half million students from all parts of the world have taken part in a TIP program. The program receives support from student fees and donations from individuals, corporations and foundations.

Parents and students interested in TIP's Talent Search should contact the Duke University TIP office for more information, telephone (919) 684-3847.

Looking for a place to go fishing

Finding a place to go fishing now is as easy as picking up a telephone.

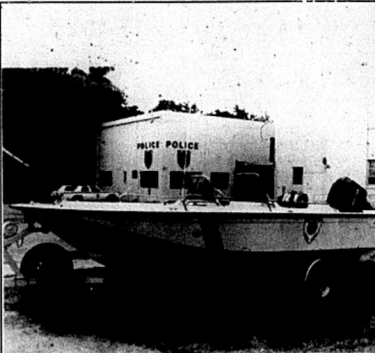

By dialing toll-free 1-800-ASK-FISH (275-3474) with a touchtone telephone, anglers can find out what bodies of water are available in a specific area, fishing regulations, locations of campgrounds, boat ramps and access for physically-challenged persons.

The system is designed so callers can enter the letters of city near where they want to go fishing. They then can enter their preference for what kind of fishing they want to do.

Sound Response a Portland, Oregon company specializing in the telephone service industry, is working to establish a nationwide system that enables anglers to find their own fishing information. The system is now in place in Oregon and Florida and will be in Arkansas and Kansas soon.

According to Doug Bean, vice president of Sound Response, the system will carry the same telephone number throughout the U.S. Callers are asked to dial the area code they are interested in hearing about and then enter specific geographical locations. Bean said his company received a continuing annual $40,000 grant from the American Fishing Tackle Manufacturer's Association, funded through the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Sport Fish Restoration Program. The funds are derived from excise taxes on the sale of fishing equipment.

New boat...the Pahokee Fire Department received a rescue fire boat through a grant from Palm Beach County. The new boat will be used for brush fires on the lake and boat rescues. The Pahokee Fire Department will be working in conjunction with the local ambulance service to make Lake Okechobee a safer place.

Christian Day students visit D.C.

Many of the fourth, fifth and sixth graders of Christian Day School recently traveled to Washington, D.C. with the School Patrol. Here are some of the experiences they shared with us:

Fourth grade:
"At 9:45 I got on the bus. It was a long trip, and it was hot and cold. I was happy at last when we made it. We saw the Washington Monument, Thomas Jefferson Memorial, the White House and more! The best part was the motel. It was fun. But I really liked the Thomas Jefferson Memorial. We saw the beautiful Potomac River. D.C. was great!"

Reggie Terissaint

I liked the Washington Monument and the Old Post Office. I had a great time. The shopping was great, too."

Eric Edwards

Fifth grade:
"My favorite place was the Washington Monument where you could see all of Washington, D.C. Did you know that in thirty miles an hour winds it only leans one-third of an inch?"

Chrissy Stevens

Sixth grade:
"Washington was really fun. The best part to me was the Washington Monument. I hope to go again sometime."
